INTRODUCTION

Justification of the topic of the dissertation and its relevance. The land of our country has always been considered one of the centers of science, art, and creativity of the ancient East, and mature scientists of various fields who surprised the world grew up in this place. Already, as President Shavkat Mirziyoyev emphasized: "It is known that today's land of Uzbekistan was the cradle of two great renaissances - the First (Enlightenment - IX-XII centuries) and the Second (Timurids - XIV-XV centuries) Renaissance. was This is a historical fact that has been proven and recognized in world science." [Interview of the President of Uzbekistan Shavkat Mirziyoyev with the editor-in-chief of the newspaper "Yangi Uzbekiston" Salim Doniyorov. // "New Uzbekistan" newspaper. August 17, 2021, No. 165 (421). - 1-4 p.]

With the emergence of the Second Renaissance, Arabic, Persian, Turkish literature, literary-historical approaches, new scientific knowledge and religious-mystical views turned into a new self. As a result, a unique renewal took place in the cultural life of the Turkic peoples, and during this period, Uzbek classical literature such as Atoyi, Gadoyi, Mavlano Lutfi, Sakkoki, Hafiz Khorazmi, Yusuf Amiri, Husayni, Shaibani Khan, Alisher Navoi, Babur Mirza a number of talented spoken word artists appeared on the stage. In particular, Hafiz Khorezmi, who lived in the 14th-15th centuries and wrote in the Uzbek language, is distinguished by his creative potential and deep sense of the artistic word.

The scope of the poet's poems is wide, they are distinguished by their philosophical depth, humanitarian spirit, high artistry, and impressiveness. Also, it should be noted that the finished ones are characterized by their simplicity, fluency and folkliness, and they reflect the elements typical of the Khorezm dialect in their creative heritage. The most interesting thing is that Hafiz Khorezmi's poetic heritage was not known to the scientific community until the last quarter of the last century. This honorable work was identified by the famous textologist Uzbek Hamid Sulaiman during his research trip to India in 1975. After that, research and serious studies began in this direction. With the efforts of the scientist, the single copy of the poem was converted into the current alphabet and published in two volumes. Also, the historical-literary environment of the end of the 14th - beginning of the 15th century, in which the authors who waved the pen, were investigated in a comparative aspect. The place of Hafiz Khorazmi as a master artist in the environment to which he belongs, the theme and ideological scope of his poems, composition of genres, artistry, language have been studied to one degree or another by scholars of Uzbek and other sister countries. done. However, until now, the images of lovers in Hafiz Khorezmi's lyrics have not been specially studied. In order to determine the poet's artistic skills and his position in Uzbek classical literature, it is necessary to study these images in detail.

After all, if we show various aspects of the poet's work with evidence, the general readership will increase attention to classic literature, serious reading skills, and the scope of interest. Elegance, praise of virtue, love of words in every poem of the artist ensures that it penetrates closely into educational institutions and wide literary circles. The thoughts and ideas of our past literary and historical heritage are related to the problems of today's time, they direct the readers to think and reflect, increase our devotion to the classic creator, and strengthen the sense of pride in our historical heritage. The didactic character of the study of this topic, its textual quality, its reflections on Sufism, and its general importance determine the relevance of the topic.

Hafiz Khorezmi's collection of Uzbek and Tajik poems published in 1981 in two volumes and "Selected works" published in 1988 were taken as the main object of the research. The books of poets influenced and influenced by Hafiz Khorezmi were also included in the scope of research for comparison.

The subject of the research is the personality of Hafiz Khorezmi, his work, the images of the lover and lover in it.
